Walkers Hammers has announced a new long-range marketing concept for the full-line up of Rammer impact hammers and cutter crusher pulverizers over a two-year period. Walkers Hammers will phase-out the Rammers brand on its hydraulic impact hammers and cutter crushers pulverizers as they will be re-branded as Sandvik products. Sandvik Mining and Construction, which is the parent company of Rammer, is developing a “family-look” for all of its varied products that it represents.

And Walkers Hammers which has exclusive Distribution agreement to sell And distribute the Rammer products in the Victorian region, will work with Sandvik in the transition period to fulfill the promotion of the re-branding

All Rammer hydraulic impact hammers including the in-series, m-series, S-series, E-series, G-series along with the full product line of cutter crushers and pulverizers will not undergo any technical changes, but will sport a subtle “cosmetic” change in appearance. The Rammer name, which has been an established brand in the demolition & construction equipment industry since 1978, will be gradually removed from all products. The distribution network, including the Sales and service organizations, will remain the same.

Final details of the “family-look” have been released. For questions and Additional information contact Walkers Hammers 9315 3788
